Chairperson’s Forward

2012 – 2013 was a good year for us. We have been successful in accomplishing our goal. With our combined efforts and hard work we were able to raise INR 18 Crores through corporate sector and individual giving. We have contributed to building philanthropic infrastructure by sensitizing people on various social issues that require immediate attention. Our services continued to be used by several global clients and international grant makers.

In addition, we have spent considerable time building out operational efficiency and also launched a new product division called PSU division. We have crafted a long range of plan with clear goals that will see CAF India taking a huge leap forward in the coming years with more brand visibility & shaping up CAF India’s identity.

None of the achievements of the year would have been possible without the efforts of CAF India’s dedicated staff. The team has been successful in accomplishing the aspirations and mission of CAF India’s mission with sincerity.

I have every confidence that CAF India will continue to provide giving solutions in the years to come and will provide valuable resources to the not-for-profit sector.

Arun Bhatnagar Ram
Chairperson CAF India

From the Chief Executive’s Desk

2012-13 was the year of pride for CAF India. We have been successful in accomplishing our goals and raised more than 18 Crores through corporate sector and individual giving. The combined and noteworthy effort of the team pulled it in economic challenges and market hesitations.

CAF India mission is to promote and support strategic giving for a more equitable and sustainable society. We try and facilitate increased flow of resources from individuals and organizations to the non-profit sector for transforming human lives and communities.

This is our responsibility and privilege. We are part of the CAF Global Alliance helping individuals and companies to give evermore effectively across 90 countries and distributing 1 million pounds to charities each day!

We cover a large gamut of social issues ranging from Education, Community development, Livelihood, Healthcare, Disability, Environment, Humanitarian Response and what not. We believe that it is important to address these issues and then work towards the same.

Year 2012-13 was a great year which gave CAF India lots of benchmarks to take proud of. We have spent considerable time building out operational efficiency and also launched a new product division called PSU division. PSU’s holds great potential in social giving. With new government policies and guidelines PSU’s will be an important sector which will mark a huge change in Social Giving.

The social initiatives of PSUs in the last six decades have considerably uplifted the quality of life of the communities. They’ve worked in remote rural or tribal locations, where most private corporations have seldom thought of or tried reaching. In addition to spending gigantic amount of funds on employee benefits and their skills development, CPSEs have been working towards disbursing the benefits of development among the communities they operate within.

CAF India organised successfully managed to run various programmes put forward by our donors.

Our consistent efforts put for all our projects gives our donors and corporates huge satisfaction and reason to come back to us again and again. We successfully launched phase 2 of Support My School Campaign.

Most of the power and impact of our work was derived from the quality of our relationships with NGOs and people closest to the issues we address. Our partners were vital contributors, and a shared understanding helped everyone work more effectively together.

I am grateful to all our donors for their continued trust and generous support of our vision, purpose and direction. Thank you all for believing in CAF India. I hope that your support will remain in future as we continue to deliver value to you.

I sincerely thank every member of CAF India for their hard work, determination, ability and energy with which they contributed and made 2012-13 a significant year.

I am confident that 2013-14 will bring more value to the organization and make us one of the most preferred organizations for donors and NGOs in every respect.

Being CAF India means expanding the world of possibilities for a meaningful and effective giving. We will not rest with anything less.

OVERVIEW
CAF India clients have continued to make charitable giving a priority despite continued economic pressures, with donations surpassing the targets set for the year.
My name is Abhinay. I belong to a village called Nirmal in Adilabad district. I was born deaf. My father runs a small business in the town. My mother was so distressed when she got to know that I am hearing impaired. I think it is a feeling any parent would have. A feeling that comes out of fear, a fear of the world where I was born. I was unlike my friends, but I knew, I am better than them. My parents had no access to health facility in the village and it was out of my father’s pocket to get me treated in the city. My days in school were very quiet, filled with silence. I could neither speak nor understand anyone. It was very painful to be neglected. But then things changed. My mother’s prayers were answered. Somebody in our village, suggested my parents to take me to Ashray Akruti School where children with hearing impairment get enrolled. I would say that was the turning point of my life. The school helped me develop my confidence to perform academically. It is well said that “recognition comes when you succeed” and it happened in my life. With the help of teachers in Ashray Akruti, I could work on my speech and my communication vastly improved. I was able to complete my 10th standard board examination with good marks. I completed polytechnic course and now I am pursuing Engineering course from Matrusree Engineering College in Hyderabad. All my parent’s prayers are addressed now. They are happy to see me progress and I am confident that I can take care of them well. I know that not many people are lucky like me, But I pray and wish them good luck.

My name is Ganga Devi. I hail from a village that not many people would have heard of. It’s 500 kilometers from the city of Hyderabad. My village, Poddlakuru, my father is a farmer and my mother, a homemaker. I want to share my experiences with all of you. It is not a sad story but a story that I drew inspiration from. I am better than them. My parents had no education, they had no money to think of taking me to the city hospital. My future seemed bleak for them. Then as they, “when one door closes the other opens”, Ashray Akruti, a NGO came to my rescue. Ashray Akruti, has a school for hearing impaired kids, where I was enrolled in 1997 at the age of 6. With the help of teachers in Ashray Akruti, I could work on my speech and my communication vastly improved. I was able to complete my 10th standard board examination with good marks. I completed polytechnic course and now I am pursuing Engineering course from Malla Reddy Engineering college. I am proud to say that I have learnt to read, write and talk without the use of sign language. I have profound hearing loss. All this was possible because, I had the determination to overcome this disability. My parents were shocked to learn that I was suffering from hearing loss and there were no facilities in the village to address this problem. With a meager annual income, my parents couldn’t even think of taking me to the city hospital. My future seemed bleak for them. Then as they, “when one door closes the other opens”, Ashray Akruti, a NGO came to my rescue. Ashray Akruti, has a school for hearing impaired kids, where I was enrolled in 1997 at the age of 6.
We have partnered with Charities Aid foundation India for our payroll donation program since last 4 years. It has been a great experience associating with CAF India. Funded by HDFC and Implemented by Aman Charitable Public trust

The Baramulah project was initiated by CAF three years back and CAF India had approached many corporates for supporting the project and finally HDFC came forward to support the project.

The impact of conflict in Kashmir is immediately discernible in the lack of infrastructure in the rural parts of Kashmir like the districts of Baramulla, where this project is located. The state run health care system is in dismal state which allows quacks and private doctors to exploit the villagers. It is, therefore, necessary to run localized health facilities that can meet the basic health needs of a number of people at the grassroots level.

The objective of the project is to:
- Provide health care and laboratory facilities to 20 villages of Baramulla District reaching out to a population of 1 lakh people
- Preventive health campaign on reproductive health and childcare
- Advocacy on government health care schemes like NHRM reach beneficiaries and properly implemented

The strength of the program has been the taking the health facilities to the remote, difficult to access terrains within the districts through bimonthly health camps. Ensuring that the government health care schemes like ICDS and NHRM outreach the maximum numbers of beneficiaries and are implemented fully by conducting advocacy and awareness programmes.

The Journey so far

The Beginning

In 2010, CAF India partnered with Coca Cola India, NDTV, and UN habitat came together to launch a unique campaign Support My School (SMS) to raise awareness and funds to bring together partners in an effort to revitalize schools in rural and semi urban India with an emphasis on

- Proper sanitation
- Access to water and sports facilities
- Environment upkeep
- Rainwater harvesting

Charities Aid Foundation (CAF) was appointed the Implementation Partner and Sulabh International as the Knowledge Partner for this campaign. The campaign also gained enormous strength and credibility with eminent cricketer Sachin Tendulkar joining in as its campaign ambassador.

After extensive preparation and pilots spread over a year, the SMS campaign was formerly launched on 24 January 2011, with a promise to provide basic amenities in at least a100 schools.

Creating Happy, Healthy Active Schools

Partner NGO of Charities Aid Foundation

Working for the better of the children is more important than any other development program. It is no doubt the responsibility of corporate and organisations like CAF to see that the society is developed uniformly of which they are part and parcel. Now Support My School (SMS) campaign is known in every corner of Rangareddy District (Andhra Pradesh) due to its successful interventions. The pouring request for adopting the schools under SMS, (still received by ASSIST) shows how the stakeholders are satisfied. All the stakeholders included the elected representatives and bureaucrats are satisfied with the work completed under SMS.

My Story

My name is Santosh. I am in grade 8 and I am 14 years old. I have been studying in this school since grade 1 and have been part of it since the past 7 years. Earlier I didn’t like it much here as there were no separate toilets for girls, access to clean drinking water and no proper playground. I use to tell my parents that I want to go to the big school. We are farmers by professions so my parents could not afford to send me to a private school in the city.

A turning point came when Support My School (SMS) helped our school grow by providing us with basic necessities as well as other amenities.

Through SMS, Coca-Cola has planted trees around our sports field, developed our sports facilities like basketball, badminton and volleyball courts, donated us a full Pearson funded library, made clean drinking water easily available and sent up a full rain water harvesting system inside our school premises.

I feel that SMS has totally have turned our school’s image by revamping it to such an extent that we might just be better off than few private city schools too. Now I look forward to coming to school, learning new things, playing sports and meeting all my friends. I am proud to be a part of Pabsara Government Middle School and am highly obliged by the campaign’s kind gesture that changed our lives forever.

My name is Rashmi. I am in grade 7 and 13 years old. I have been studying in this school since grade 1 and have been part of it since the past 6 years. My parents, younger brother and I live in small secluded village called Jhundpur in Haryana, India. My family is not very well off and cannot afford to send me to a private school. The government primary school in our village lacked access to drinking water, separate toilet for girls and a proper playground. This was very discouraging for me. Many other girls dropped out of school at a very young age for the same reason. When we found out that our school was being refurbished by the Support My School (SMS) campaign, I was very excited, but my parents were skeptical. Many times, promises such as these fail to be fulfilled. Fortunately not this time, the work was completed in just under 6 months. Now there are separate toilets for girls and boys, clean drinking water, a proper playground with a basketball, volleyball and badminton court, a full-fledged Pearson Library and most importantly a clean environment to breathe in with trees all over.

I love playing basketball with my friends, and because of this campaign, I now enjoy and love going to school. My parents along with many other parents are content with the improvement and no longer feel the need to pull their girls out of schools.

Trends of PSU Giving in India

Analysis of PSE Sector

India has been able to maintain a decent, if not spectacular, economic growth during a slowdown in the global economy. Primarily riding on government stimulus packages, which included large social expenditure programmes focussing on providing infrastructure and subsidies. The thrust was supported by the growth, production, large scale employment and resources made available by the enormous government owned enterprises known as the Central Public Sector Enterprises (CPSEs). Being the largest commercial enterprises in the country, CPSEs provide a huge leverage to the government (their controlling shareholder) to intervene in the economy directly or indirectly to achieve the desired socio-economic objectives. These PSEs ensure their business decisions disregard the short-term commercial interest to invest in local assets and resources so as to maximise the long-term socio-economic gains. Even the rural growth story, which has recently caught the attention of private sector, could not have been possible without the number of basic infrastructure services offered by public sector in this area.

The important indicators to measure the performance of PSEs are their share in India’s GDP, in gross domestic capital formation, total employment in PSEs and prices deflator for the sector. In the beginning of the seventies, this share was just 10%, which grew rapidly in the following two decades and more than doubled to 25% by 1990-91. It still accounts for one fifth of the total GDP during FY11.

Thought leadership and policy influencing:

• Building proposals which advocate holistic development of communities
• Through our programs with PSEs, supporting the government in achieving MDGs in the most backward districts
• Launching a strong “National Internship & Volunteering” model, ensuring a steady inflow of trained and high-quality workforce into development sector

Grant Making

Grant making at CAF India personifies our mission of promoting strategic giving. We work towards aligning every charitable giving to investment principles and business practices and offer authentic and sustainable solutions to challenges facing Indian society today. Our Grant Making team has helped change the lives of thousands of people. We do this by disbursing funds to over 40 districts in 17 states across India through our partner NGOs.

NGO Validation: Our key strength lies in doing independent and in-depth due diligence of non-profits and providing an impartial and robust assessment of each one. Each assessment analyses their track record and capacity skills, with a view to maximising the potential of each grant. This enables our donors to make an informed choice about their donations and investments. Our long, proven track record and expertise has helped us gain and retain the trust of many individual donors, national and transnational companies, foundations and institutions.

Capacity Building: Over the last five years we have proactively engaged in building capacity in the non-profit sector. This has involved a wide range of practices, from producing guidelines, creating frameworks for managing projects, to organising capacity building workshops through to providing learning opportunities for non-profit leaders and organisations.

Community Development Initiatives: Building a long term sustainable strategy is key to making the most of a company’s corporate responsibility. We are experts in developing corporate responsibility strategies that will make a difference to the company and to the communities it wants to help. We believe in providing the best advice and we do this through:

- Our in-depth understanding of the charity and business worlds
- Our wide ranging corporate responsibility expertise
- Our unique role – providing an objective viewpoint in analysing and providing quality assurance on each NGO

Programme Design and Delivery: We help donors design, develop and manage their sustainable giving programmes from a cause of their choosing. Donors also have the option of investing in our comprehensive Programmes covering a range of causes, namely: education, health, early childhood development (Balwadi), culture and heritage and disaster preparedness. (refer fig 1.0)

NGO Partnership Support: We provide advisory support to NGOs, Trusts or Societies in the areas of institutional development, capacity building, strategic and operational issues, fund raising and public relations and communications.

Research: We undertake stand alone consulting, feasibility studies and research projects to enable companies, foundations and individual donors to gain a deeper understanding of the needs of communities to help meet their giving objectives.

Institutional Development: We partner with companies to build and expand their community investment programmes within their foundation.

Disaster Support: We are active in facilitating donations from companies, individuals and international partners for non-profits, working to rehabilitate victims from natural disasters.

My name is Krishna Singh and I put up in Leprosy colony of Sitarampur. I was 18 years of age when I got detected with leprosy. My parents took me to a local hospital where I underwent treatment for 4 years. Post my recovery I got married to a beautiful woman named Lakshmi. I use to run a grocery shop to earn a living. Due to my past history there is permanent deformity in my right hand and people use to fear coming to my shop. They use to avoid buying stuff from me, because of which I was left with no other option but to quit and start begging.

We were blessed with two daughters and a son. We approached the Udayan Survey Team to get our elder daughter, Lolita admitted to Udayan. She has been in Udayan since the year 1999 from the age of seven. She studied in Barrackpore Wesley Hindustani High School. This year she appeared for H.S examination and secured a very impressive 71% of marks in aggregate and her total was highest among Udayan students. She made us very proud. She like Painting and Singing very much. Lolita wants to become a qualified nurse and Steve Waugh Scholarship has helped her to fulfill her dreams. She has been admitted to Apollo Nursing College, Durg in Chhattisgarh.

My name is Salma, I am 19 years, a resident of Bhavani Nagar, Hyderabad. My father is an auto driver and my mother, a house wife. I am born with two brothers, who work as daily wagers. I belong to an orthodox muslim family and it took me lot of efforts in making them understand the importance of education.

As a bright student in the 10th standard, I had lot of ambitions to continue my education and become a teacher, but the situation didn’t help my cause. My brother and father were not interested to let me continue my higher education. I have seen my classmates discontinuing their education after their puberty, because of family pressure and taboos. I was not an exception either. I tried to seek my mother’s support, but didn’t have any say in the family decision. I used to help her in household chores and cutting betel nuts confining myself to the four walls around me. Then a ray of hope appeared, that changed my life, when I met the staff of Mahita in an Adolescent Girls meet. Fortunately I got an opportunity to attend the meeting and enrolled myself in a vocational center run by Mahita with the support of CAF India.

The zeal and inspiration that I got from the centre has also motivated my parents to join the centre. I am learning beautician course and I am quick learner. I have simultaneously enrolled for basic computer course as well. I have got the confidence to change the mindset of my parents towards girl child issues and taken up the responsibility as a change agent in our locality.

Priyanka Chavan is an above average student. She was enrolled in VIDYA’s Beyond School Program at Gautam Nagar few years back. Holistic approach of the program enhanced this Class 9 student’s study skills. Today she is an energetic contestant in various activities, workshops and other events that are held in VIDYA. Noticing the pace of her progress, her schooling was switched to a Semi English medium from Marathi medium. The change in the medium did not deter her learning. She is one of the scholarship students of VIDYA who have excelled in studies and has largely participated in various co-curricular activities. Right now Priyanka is focusing on her spoken English Skills which we believe she will outdo!!

Here is VIDYA wishing all the best for her bright future!
